Burpee's Sweet Peas are world-famous, and our strains of Early or Winter Flowering Spencer Sweet Peas are recognized as the standard. They are planted by many of the leading Sweet Pea specialists to the exclusion of all other strains.

Growers who sell their flowers to the best markets realize that the quality of the blooms is most important to get the highest market prices, and that is the reason why the majority plant Burpee's Sweet Peas.

strain*

1797 Ball's Orange

The seed we offer is our own growing of the famous Ball's Orange Calendula. It is produced on our FLORADALE FARMS in California under the closest supervision of our farm manager, and we believe that the strain is unexcelled in every way. Florists who have grown this strain have discontinued using all others.

The flowers are of immense size and regular form. They are always fully double, never showing any open centers.

One of the outstanding characteristics of Ball's Calendula is the long stem upon which the flower is borne. This is of utmost importance to those who grow Calendulas in the greenhouse, because the flowers are so much more valuable for cutting purposes. Our selection shows up particularly well in this respect. The color of the blooms is a most intense and brilliant orange with a rich metallic gloss. We can most highly recommend this variety to every florist who wants the best obtainable.

Pkt. 25¢; ½ oz. $1.75; oz. $3.00.

1802 Orange King

This seed has also been produced on our FLORADALE FARMS in California and our strain, we believe, constitutes the highest development. The individual blooms are large and remarkably double. They are regular in outline and always full to the very center. The color is a brilliant orange. Pkt. 10¢; ½ oz. 25¢; oz. 40¢; 4 ozs. $1.10.

Just why this color should not be in as great favor as the orange varieties of Giant Calendulas is difficult to understand. The flowers are of enormous size and excellent form. New Giant Snapdragons

These new Giant Snapdragons are a most outstanding improvement achieved within late years. They are an entirely new type of remarkable beauty and it is no wonder that they have quickly gained world-wide recognition. We were one of the first American houses to recognize the immense value of these and have been selecting our own stocks for many years. The plants are by far the tallest of any Snapdragons in existence. They grow 3 to 4 feet tall outdoors but will reach 5 to 6 feet if grown under glass. Each spike is closely set with large, well-formed flowers. The range of colors in this new type is particularly noteworthy.

Half-Dwarf Snapdragons

The Half-Dwarf type of Snapdragons is grown more widely than all other types combined. It is well adapted for beds or borders and the flower-spikes are long enough for cutting. The plants are free growing and profuse flowering. Raised in the greenhouse for winter blooming, they grow somewhat taller than outdoors, so that flower-stems measuring 18 inches or more in length are about the average. We have for many years selected our varieties, and, judging from the large number of Snapdragon specialists who secure their seeds from us, we believe that our strains are exceptionally fine. The comparative trials made each year at Fordhook insure the quality of our stock.

1538 Nelrose

A magnificent variety of strong compact growth, producing a profusion of fine long-stemmed flowers. Nelrose seems to be particularly popular with both growers and the buying public. It is a comparatively new variety which has supplanted most of the older pinks. The color of the blooms is a rich silvery pink, free from any by-tones, but clear and decisive. The individual blooms are large and well-formed. They are closely set on fine long stems 18 to 24 inches in length. We have taken particular care to get our strain absolutely uniform in every way and do not hesitate to recommend it to all who appreciate uniformity in color, habit, and free blooming character. The seed has been grown on our FLORADALE FARMS in the Lompoc Valley, California.

Pkt. 10¢; $\frac{1}{16}$ oz. 35¢; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. 95¢; oz. \$2.85.

1540 Philadelphia Pink

We are placing Philadelphia Pink ahead of the other varieties listed below because florists have shown particular interest in it. The demand for our seed of this variety has steadily increased by leaps and bounds, which seems to indicate that the variety is becoming extremely popular and that our strain pleases those who have bought it. We consider Philadelphia Pink ranking among the very best of the Half-Dwarf Snapdragons. The massive spikes are particularly outstanding. They are closely set with large well-formed blooms of a rich silvery pink shade. The seed has been selected to produce plants of uniform height and bushy growth. Philadelphia Pink is outstanding as it is one of the heaviest croppers of all Half-Dwarf Snapdragons in existence. Pkt. 15¢; $\frac{1}{16}$ oz. 45¢; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. \$1.25; oz. \$3.70.

1517 Climax A truly lovely flower of a rich orange shade with a contrasting golden yellow lip. Well-formed and large flowers closely set on fine long stems. Pkt. 15¢; $\frac{1}{16}$ oz. 45¢; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. \$1.25; oz. \$3.70.

PERENNIAL FLOWER SEEDS

Perennials have once more become great favorites. Florists who have space to grow young plants find that they can make an especially good profit from raising plants for spring sales. Such popular perennials as Campanula, Delphinium, Hollyhocks, and Sweet William always find a ready market and, in fact, others not as well known will be eagerly bought by the public.

Then, again, plants left over from the spring sales may be grown on to provide cut-flowers during spring, summer, and fall. Summer and early fall are the best time to start perennials from seed. The list given below and on the next page covers all the important classes. The seed offered is of the usual high Burpee quality.

The flowers are graceful and look best if sold with their own Fern-like foliage. The plants are perfectly hardy and free flowering.

Digitalis—Foxglove

DIGITALIS, or Foxglove, as it is commonly known, is a biennial of handsome appearance, particularly when planted in groups. Florists who sell perennial plants to their trade will find a ready demand for the young plants. Those left over will provide most attractive long spikes for cutting.

Gypsophila

The PERENNIAL GYPSOPHILA or Baby's Breath is of utmost importance to every florist. There is always a lack of small decorative flowers for bouquets. If seeds are sown in January, the plants will bloom the first year but only in a limited way. Beginning with the second year they will bear a profusion of small slender-stemmed white blooms of airy and graceful appearance.

Hibiscus

HIBISCUS is also known under the name of Rose of Sharon. In sections where the winters are not too severe it will make fine strong plants covered with large single flowers in many beautiful colors. The plants bear a profusion of blooms throughout the summer and give a wonderful effect if planted in mixed borders.

Hollyhocks

(Althea rosea)

HOLLYHOCKS are an essential to the old-fashioned garden, giving a display which is not equalled by any other perennial. Young plants can be readily disposed of at good prices either in spring or fall, to be planted in the perennial borders of your customers. In addition to this, there should be grown a number of plants to provide cut-flowers where material for large, showy decorations is wanted.

3840 Liliun regale

Much has been written within late years about growing Liliun regale from seed. All this literature has pointed out how easy it is to produce this excellent Lily within two or three years from the time seed is planted. It has been kept over winter successfully even where the weather is quite severe.

The REGAL LILY is a wonderful variety, combining hardness with size and beauty. The individual blooms measure 4 to 6 inches across and they are borne in clusters. The flowers are bluish-white shading to canary-yellow in the throat. 1/16 oz. 50¢; 1/8 oz. 85¢; 1/4 oz. $1.45; 1/2 oz. $2.50.

Lathyrus latifolius

The PERENNIAL SWEET PEA, perhaps as well known under the name of Lathyrus latifolius, deserves the attention of all enterprising florists. Particularly where large plantings are to be made by those who also take care of landscape work, a supply of these plants will come in very handy. They are valuable for planting in out of the way places and to cover stumps and rockeries. The plants are perfectly hardy, and may be sold, whether in the spring or in the fall, for planting in the perennial border.

Papaver—Perennial Poppies

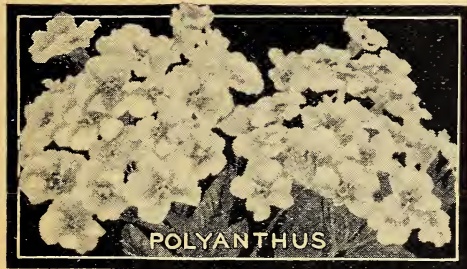

Few perennials make as fine a show as the PERENNIAL POPPIES. Both the mixture and the Oriental Poppies make a tall growth and bear enormous flowers during the summer. The Iceland Poppy is a smaller-flowered perennial, growing about eighteen inches tall. It is grown widely for cut-flowers and for perennial borders on account of its fine rich yellow and orange shades.

POLYANTHUS

Polyanthus

3850 Large Flowering, Mixed The Polyanthus are Primulas of the greatest importance. They are hardy and will live over the winter in the open provided they are planted somewhere where they are protected against severe winter winds. They bloom profusely during the early spring and may be grown indoors under the same conditions as Violets. Success with Polyanthus depends on growing them cool and shady. Our strain embraces a wide range of bright and showy colors.

Primula

Both the Auricula and Vulgaris Primulas are excellent border plants. They are quite hardy but unfortunately Auricula is not hardy enough to withstand the winters in most localities except when kept in frames. They are also somewhat susceptible to extremely hot weather. Primula Vulgaris is perfectly hardy and will make a wonderful showing after it has become established. Also fine as pot plants.

Pyrethrum

The Golden Feather is a popular dwarf yellow border plant with attractive Fern-like foliage. Roseum is a strain of Hybrids popularly called "Colored Daisy." It flowers freely during June and gives excellent cutting material. There is a demand for plants of these, both during fall and early spring, and what you have left over may be grown on for cutting.

Sweet William

Dianthus barbatus

Here is a plant which sells as readily in the spring as any other perennial in existence. The ease of culture and the freedom of bloom appeal to the home gardener so that seldom enough plants are at hand to supply the demand. Seeds sown in July and August, and transplanted later on so that the plants will have six inches of space each way, will flower during the following May and June.

BURPEE'S PANSIES

Pansies have always been a great Burpee specialty and neither time nor money has been spared to offer to American gardeners the very best that can be had in this popular flower. Florists, both large and small, realize how important this crop has become with them and those who start with good seeds are usually well rewarded for their labor.

2457 Trimardeau or Giant Mixed

A typical flower of Trimardeau Pansies

Here is a mixture of Giant Pansies which for years has been considered of outstanding value. It embodies the various varieties of Giant Pansies offered in separate colors on the next page. It also includes other large-flowered strains with flowers both in self colors and blotched on the three lower or on all five petals. The flowers are always of large size. They are well rounded and carried on fine long stems. Every shade known in Pansies is included in this wonderful mixture. It will serve well for bedding and is grown extensively for the trade which wants large and substantial Pansies but does not want to pay the high prices of the Burpee Blend, Steele's Mastodon, and others.

Pkt. 10¢; $\frac{1}{8}$ oz. 30¢;
 $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. 50¢; oz. \$1.50.

The Burpee Blend of Giant Fancy Pansies, which we consider the best strain of Pansies in existence, is described and illustrated on the back cover of this catalog.

2463 Giant Ruffled Masterpiece

The truly giant size flowers of Masterpiece are particularly attractive because they contain so much substance that they are gracefully waved and fluted, particularly on the edges. This almost gives the appearance of a double flower. The colors are mainly rich dark shades, bordered, blotched, or marked in ray-like veins with contrasting colors. Masterpiece is a free blooming and carefully selected strain with fine long-stemmed flowers, admirably adapted for cutting, but just as useful for bedding purposes.

Pkt. 10¢; $\frac{1}{8}$ oz. 45¢; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. 75¢; oz. \$2.15.

2461 Bugnot

This is a large-flowering strain comprising a wide range of beautiful colors. Each petal of the flower has a large dark blotch and the color from this blotch radiates towards the margin of the petals. This gives a diffused effect to the color design of the flowers and adds to their apparent size. The texture of the petals is thick and heavy and is in keeping with the velvety finish of the blooms. Bugnot is a sturdy grower and profuse bloomer. It is always greatly admired.

Pkt. 10¢; $\frac{1}{8}$ oz. 45¢; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. 75¢; oz. \$2.15.

2500 Steele's Mastodon

Greenhouse Special Mixture (O. K. Outside)

Here is a Pansy which has quickly gained wide popularity and favor. The blooms are truly immense. They are well shaped, of thick texture, and have beautifully waved edges. This includes everything from pure white to deep mahogany. The very fine lavender, rose, cerise, and light porcelain blue shades deserve special mention. A mixture particularly fine for the greenhouse or for growing in frames, but just as good for growing in the open. Pkt. 25¢; $\frac{1}{8}$ oz. \$1.15; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. \$1.95; oz. \$6.00.

2417 Orchid Flowered

This variety has large well-rounded blooms of somewhat smaller size than the others listed on this page, yet it deserves particular attention because of the exceptionally fine range of colors found in it. Orchid Flowered received its name because of the Orchid-like coloring of its blooms. There are some lovely shades of blue and lavender, also citron-yellow, pinks, and mauves. The individual flowers have attractively ruffled edges and they are borne on long stems.

Burpee's Giant Pansies

2513 Burpee Blend of Giant Fancy Pansies

For the lover of fine Pansies this blend cannot be surpassed. It contains the largest and most beautiful of all blotched Pansies that have been developed for many years by careful and close selection. The Burpee Blend contains only well-formed, widely expanded flowers of uniformly large size, with an unusual range of colors and markings. The rich deep blue and velvety purple shades deserve particular mention. There are also plenty of bright and lighter shades in this blend to give a well-balanced array of color.

The texture of the blooms is heavy and thick, so that the flowers are well waved and crinkled on the edges. The large flowers are borne upon long stiff stems, which makes them admirably suited for cutting.

In selecting the Burpee Blend, we have paid particular attention to include only compact, rounded plants of sturdy habit and profuse blooming qualities. The plants flower freely throughout the spring, summer, and fall.
